DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 31-61 have been allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record issued to Srinivasan and Belknap either alone or combine fails to teach or suggest a system “comprising: a personal-use receiver to receive content from a plurality of content providers and to receive a plurality of advertisements an advertisement; a local cache, coupled to said receiver, to store said content, said plurality of advertisements, and instructions, said instructions to that enable said receiver to detect, during play of a particular content item selected from said local cache, an interruption in the access of said particular content item from said local cache, the interruption based on a user's unique pattern of usage of the particular content item and said instructions to enable the receiver to collect information to enable a credit to the content provider that provided the particular content item for an advertisement displayed in association with said particular content item; and an interface, in said receiver, to insert an advertisement for display in response to detecting the interruption change in the access to the particular content item” as cited in claim 51 and its corresponding technique as in claim 31 and its medium for storing instructions executed by a processor-based system as in claim 41. The examiner agrees that Srinivasan does not address how to credit a particular content provider for an advertisement that is played during use of its content where content is received from many different content providers and is stored on a personal-use receiver. Under these circumstances it is not known if or when a particular content item will be selected by a consumer for play or if the consumer will interrupt the content to prompt an advertisement to play during the interruption.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
